

HUMANITARIAN ACTION 2021 OVERVIEW

Asia and the Pacific

UNFPA is the United Nations sexual and reproductive health agency. Our mission is to deliver a world where every pregnancy is wanted, every childbirth is safe and every young person's potential is fulfilled. UNFPA's Regional Office for Asia and the Pacific, in Bangkok, provides strategic support and technical expertise to 22 country offices across Asia and our Pacific Sub-Regional Office in Suva, Fiji, supports 14 Pacific island nations. We deliver policy advice, guidance, training and support to empower our partners and colleagues in the field. In humanitarian settings, UNFPA works with partners to ensure the following:

- Sexual and reproductive health (SRH) services are available so women can deliver safely and access contraception.
- People in need have access to lifesaving gender-based violence (GBV) services and the necessary measures are in place to mitigate the risk of GBV throughout humanitarian responses.
- Medical supplies and commodities are available, including for menstrual hygiene management.
- The humanitarian response is informed by strong data and evidence.
- The specific needs of women, adolescent girls and young people are addressed, including mental health and psychosocial support.
